SHE AND ME

I trusted her. I gave her all I had and now, when I’m able to improve my life, she goes far from me. Talking with my solitude I’ve understood that she isn’t for me. I decided to forget her and live alone. It’s impossible when I look in the mirror...

THE PATIENT PATIENT

In the doctor’s waiting room the nurse calls the first person of the list.
Mr. Glez please!. Nobody answers.
Pass the next.
The same situation is repeated several times.
After a long time, only one patient patient remains still waiting who timidly says: “sorry nurse but my surname is Gonzalez”.

HE READ VERY BAD

Her husband watches T.V. and he says: bad luck !.
He throws the ticket of lottery to the wastepaper.
She takes it and sees it. She starts to cry.
--Why do you do this? he asks worried.
--Because you are a stupid, the winner is 66966 she says.
He read 99699....

THE MIRROR

A parcel arrived at Golding’s house. Ernerst opened it. “It’s my father’s portrait! I’m going to hide it”. His wife doesn’t want to see him. She was suspicious - every day, Ernest came up to the attic. Sarah found the mirror: “It’s a woman...! It doesn’t matter! She’s horrible and old!”
IN THE MORNING

He wakes up with the activity of his brothers.
They are very close, and they feel everything.
He hears his brothers suckling like pigs.
He can smell the hot milk, he’s very hungry.
He looks for his nipple... OK....now he finds one very full!

He is Toby, my dog.

THE WAR OF THE WORLDS

There have been more than six months announcing it. Unthinkable!. The sirens could be heard in the city, the people started to run and shout. They heard a terrible storm. The lights were turned off and a terrifying darkness appeared.
Suddenly a voice said: ‘With all of you: The Beatles!’

THE REST OF THE WARRIOR

BOOOOOOMMM Ratatatatatatatatatata
Sergeant!!! The troops can’t advance!!! They are over enemy fire!!
BOOOOOOMMMM BOOOOOOMMMMM Ratatatatatatatatatata
We need more artillery!!! Call the headquarters for reinforcements!!!
BOOOOOOMMMMM
A woman appeared in the battle and all stopped. Clear up the tin soldiers and go to bed! You need to rest, it's too late!
A WEIRD COINCIDENCE

Last night I was in my house, relaxed, watching TV. My flatmate arrived at home and after having a bath she sat beside me.
We were watching a wild animals' programme. There was a tiger eating a zebra.
Then my flatmate said: ¡¡ Humm, I'm feeling hungry !!
Suddenly I felt afraid.

THE LOVE

The husband came home at dawn. His wife was waiting at the door. He was drunk, happy and with lipstick stains.
“I guess there is a reason to arrive at six in the morning” alleged the woman, to whom the husband replies:
Yes, I love your daily breakfast my darling.

THE POWER OF THE MIND

A woman was looking after her niece of four years. Suddenly the child was immobile and didn’t say any word.
Her aunt carried her to the hospital. She seemed unconscious and didn’t feel pain.
Then the doctor said: Look at your mummy. The child got up and said: "Where’s mum?"
HOSPITAL EMERGENCY

Her mother didn’t answer her mobile. The last time she was in hospital. Quickly, she got dressed and run to her mother’s house. But she wasn’t there. When the daughter was going to her brother’s house she saw her leaving the café. “I can’t have a drink without being caught!”

MILOU

Some years ago, I found a dog walking in the street. It was abandoned. When we looked at each other, we fell in love. He smelled very badly; after a shower a beautiful fox-terrier appeared. Now he has a new house, a new name and I have a new friend.

BENEFITS OF SOCIAL NETWORKING

I like Facebook and other social networks. I think they are good, if you know how to use them.

My last great find was to locate my old classmates. I haven’t seen them for twenty-seven years.

Next October we have a lunch in Barcelona. I’m very excited.

Have a try!

- Ring...ring...ring...
- Hi!
- HELLO, HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU!
- Thank you very much.
- HOW ARE YOU?

I’m fine thanks, with the backpack full of 95 years that weighs so much; but with your phone call you have eased the weight and thanks to life for giving me one more day.

WITHOUT A TITLE

A clean sheet of paper and fifty words looking for their place.
It’s two in the morning. I’ve read three stories by Raymond Carver and I’d like to write a story but I don’t think I can.
I light a cigarette, the ash falls on the paper. I feel tired.

ONE MOMENT

Today I get up happy, I look through the window and the big mountain appears.
Dad turns very pale, he doesn’t speak, we make fun of him.
I love him.
"Fly’s-Fly", Mr Rousé’s old dog, looks at me. He comes up to me.
The cable car arrives at the top.
IN BLACK AND WHITE

The doctor was doing his job!! My girlfriend was lying down, she clutched my hands and I saw her lovely poor face dislocated! She was shouting, but I couldn’t do anything, only encourage her. Oh my God! That was the most enormous and unexpected blackhead that I’d ever seen!!

INTELLIGENT ANSWER

Bill Clinton and his wife, Hillary, stopped to refuel at Hillary´s ex-boyfriend petrol station. Bill ironically said to her:

‘If you had married him, you would be the owner of this petrol station’. Then she answered smiling:

‘No darling, he would be the president of the United States of America’.

NOT FAR FROM HOME

There he is as every morning with his penetrating look. I hide behind the curtains to watch all his movements; I can guess that he’s intelligent, shrewd, tender, so funny….I’m fascinated. I would like to hug him but our relationship’s impossible. My favourite kitty lives in the opposite house.

THE END OF THE PARTY

He went to the flat where last night they celebrated a party.
When he opened the door he asked:
- What happened here?
He found a lot of blood and a knife on the floor…
Suddenly his friend showed up and said:
- I was hungry and tried doing something to eat.

THE DEVIL LOADS THE GUNS

The street was deserted. I was startled, the street looked dangerous. A man coming towards me! Suddenly, that person took a gun out of his pocket. The man aimed the gun at me. He pressed the trigger. A flame lit my cigarette. I must stop smoking cigarettes, don’t you think?

22

GIANTS

He was a skinny person, old, dreamer and hunter. He liked reading many books about knights but he went mad.
His companion of battles was good-natured and modest.
Every day, they went to look for incredible adventures.
In some places, they found many windmills and he wanted to fight against them.

23

THE LAST SUPPER

Sheila invited his friend home. She cooked delicious food for him.
Then she prepared a romantic ambient. When she finished, she put on clothes and she went to meet him. They went home. When the light turned off they didn't have dinner. They had to stay locked inside the lift!
DREAM OR REALITY?

Suddenly he closed his eyes and decided to count to twenty:
One, two, three...
He wished it was only a dream
...eleven, twelve, thirteen...
Time passed so slowly!
...eighteen, nineteen, twenty.
But then when he opened his eyes he discovered that the monster was still there looking at him again.

A BIG STORY

‘Bring me a Big Story’ her boss said.
She heard rumours about infidelity of the Prime Minister... ‘I’ve got it’. She waited at Sheraton-Inn. She saw the Minister going out with a beautiful woman. She took photos and then sent them to her boss. Unfortunately, ‘the lover’ was his wife.

A TYPICAL ENDING?

She was a child. She liked reading stories about princesses who kissed toads and then became princes. One day she dressed very attractively, walked through the park and saw a pond with a toad. She went to kiss it. It was a pity that the damn toad ate her up!
SURPRISE!

John had stayed to watch the game on TV with friends at home. Two minutes remaining, the game was tied.

Suddenly his team scores and he runs to his room to check the coupon. Then her mother leaves the kitchen with his jeans freshly washed.

Mom, what have you done!

A BETTER PLACE

That was enough, I couldn't stand that situation. I couldn't stay there anymore. It was so black and little for me. I needed to go through those narrow walls. I think that I deserve a better place!

Congratulations for your baby, madam! You have had a very restless little daughter!

THE STRANGE MAN

When I went out of the restaurant, I discovered that a man was following me. I tried to run away, but he followed me. I turn right, then left and eventually right. I’m in a blind alley. I am caught.

The man says:

“Sir! You have to pay the bill!”
THE WORLD IS SMALL

Once I travelled to India to visit different places. I arrived in Agra where the seventh Wonder, the Taj Mahal is. One night in the hotel I heard someone calling my name, It was a boy from my village, who was living there. I thought "It is a small world".

THE PROMISE

- “You promised me you would write a novel”. He told me. But it was not true because I never promise anything to anyone. I became obsessed with that sentence. That is why today I begin to do it because everything has to start in some way: “joining words until fifty”.

THE HOUSE THAT KILLS

Ca´Dario is a palace with a sloping tower and a marble front. It was constructed in 1486 in Venice. It´s a damned place whose owners until 1993 died violently after buying it; Only very few proprietors did not die violently for five centuries.Venetians call it "the house that kills".
THE HAPPY MAN

Joseph left his job, his house and his family to travel to look for happiness. On his return, Joseph's youngest son asked him how he had put happiness in the bag.
At that moment Joseph understood that it isn’t necessary to go far to find happiness. It’s inside each one.

LANGUAGE CONTROL

Some Spanish tourists who didn’t know much English went to Iceland to see the geysers.
They wanted a photo in which they’d appear in front of the geyser and next to the signboard with its name, so finally they appeared smiling next to a signboard saying:

KEEP OFF THE GEYSER

WHO IS LYING?

When I was a child my grandfather used to say “in this life each person has what they deserve”. Sometime later, I started learning to read. I took a newspaper and read; “One child has died in a shoot-out”. Quickly I asked him “who is lying, the newspaper or you?”.
One of the sports I enjoy least is football. However, people go crazy when they watch football in a pitch or at home. A lot of fans buy their shirts, tracksuits and scarves. They make plenty of money without working hard. They should have a regular salary as everyone else.
